Florida's Space Coast Real Estate Newest Addition to PropertyMaps.com

Looking for Space Coast real estate? The free online real estate search site PropertyMaps.com adds the beach area near Orlando, Fla. to its growing database.

Sarasota, Fla. / September 5, 2007 – Home to picturesque Atlantic beaches and the Space Shuttle, Florida's Space Coast is the newest area to be added to PropertyMaps.com, the free online real estate search site.

"Home shoppers can see, for free, the same properties real estate agents see," says John M. Beck, PropertyMaps.com founder and President. "It's never been easier to look for Space Coast real estate."

One by one, PropertyMaps.com is adding metro areas nationwide to its free searchable database. The company expects to have all real estate properties nationwide online by the end of the year.

In addition to being able to see photos and other details about the actual home for sale, and demographics data, for example, shoppers can also find sexual offenders who are living in the area, hospitals and nearby businesses.

"The days of a single mouse click to find out anything and everything about real estate property are finally here," says Beck. "PropertyMaps.com will change the way Americans buy homes."

PropertyMaps.com includes 10,478 total MLS listings from the Space Coast/Melbourne, Florida area.
